CD Production

CDs offer choices for low memory requirements

CD production offers choices that depend on the volumes involved, what's being duplicated, your budget and your schedule.

A cost effective method to communicate your message, both internally and externally, and can be used as a tool to increase product knowledge with interactive instructions and manuals.

DVD Production – larger memory and plenty of choice

The big benefit of DVDs is that they offer substantial memory gains over CDs. So if your duplication material comprises more than 650Mb of data per disc, DVDs are what you should be thinking about.

Whatever your requirements, we're sure we can help you choose the best solution. Contact us to find out how our friendly, expert CD or DVD production service can meet all your needs.

CD and DVD Print Options to Suit Every Requirement

Printing on your CD or DVD disc brings it to life. This not only helps identify the content, but also brands the disc with your company logo or other graphic imagery.

Quick turn-around digital printing can be inkjet or thermal printing for economical, short-run, 1-4 colour printing.

Screen or litho printing is the method of choice for larger runs (over 500) where high-impact, economical colour images are required.

You can even overprint your screen-printed CDs or DVDs with customised information using the thermal printing process. This lets you stock any amount of 'generic' discs then overprint them at the time of production with version numbers or titles to identify the revised information or upgraded content.

DVD and CD Packaging

We've got the experience to make your life easier

With specialist packaging manufacturers continually bringing innovative packaging products to the market, Exemplar can offer you a huge range of packaging options to choose from.

You can have digi-books, clip-paks, Digi-Paks, PVC wallets, card sleeves, the Double Push Tray, single and multi-disc Jewel cases - or combinations of several of these.

Once you have decided on the packaging, you have a similar range of printed insert material to consider. Booklets, sleeves, covers and cards all provide an opportunity to deliver information and branding.

Distribution

Whatever the quantities, whatever the destination

We offer a range of distribution services to complete your CD or DVD production order.

One of the more popular methods of ordering and distribution is our Library Management service. Simply let us store your core content for later use and call it off in the duplicated disc quantities you need as and when they are required. That way, you can update the content with the latest releases or information as it occurs before we duplicate the required number of discs, then package and distribute.

We can negotiate the best rates for the best service with international and local carriers for same day, next day or next week, depending on your schedule and your budgets. We can also advise on your export requirements.

About Us

We've got the experience to make your life easier

We have the knowledge and industry contacts to help you with any aspect of CD and DVD production.

Over the years we have provided CD and DVD production services to a wide range of business applications.

We have duplicated and replicated both low and high volume projects for many blue chip companies and educational institutions; for business training programmes, installation software, IT training and exhibition and conference support material. We have also worked for several charities where quantities and schedule are very much budget-led.

This breadth of experience has given us a thorough understanding of the changing technology scene. We have been able to keep an eye on new techniques and improved processes to offer you the best choices at every stage of the way.

We use the highest quality media including Taiyo Yuden CDs and DVDs to ensure you get top results time after time. Or we can provide more economically-priced media for those cost-conscious projects.
